IF You Want Your Paper To Keep Coming

We have on our mailing list a large number of subscriptions that run out during the months of September and October, and just a few that ran out in August. We would like to continue mailing these papers every week, but unless we have renewals right away will be forced to stop every one.

First place, we need the money to help buy paper, pay postage, labor and the other things necessary in producing the paper. Second place, it is a violation of Postal Rules and Regulations for us to continue sending out papers which have not been paid for. Third place, our subscription terms are CASH IN ADVANCE and we must have the money or else stop the paper.

Within the next few days you will receive a card showing the exact date of your subscription expiration. However, you can look at the mailing label on this paper and tell when your time is out.

We hate to drop names from our list, but if you do not renew your subscription we will have to stop the paper.

Attend to this NOW before your paper stops.

"In a recent series of advertisements, I told you about some of the industry which utilize or combat the forces of Nature so your electric service will be the best you can get for the money." -REDDY KILOWATT

HOT STICKS

MAVE you ever seen a line crew at work on wires and wondered how it is possible for the men to carry on their work while high-voltage electricity coursed through the wires? They weren't always able to do this. Before the invention and perfection (by private enterprise with private funds) of "hot sticks," which are mechanical "fingers" with an uncanny ability to grasp and move electrical wires and their smaller accessories, it was necessary to "kill" an electric line before any work could be done on it, and thus interrupt your use of electric service. Today, electric lines carrying thousands of volts can be worked on without interruption of service, with little hazard to the men, due to the development of "hot sticks" and other protective devices and methods. In only rare exceptions where some heavy piece of equipment must be changed or an unusually severe storm has caused extraordinary damage, is it now necessary to take an Alabama Power Company line "out of service." Even so, there are "loop" circuits, so the interruption is only local.

Equipping line crews with hot sticks, so that they may work more safely and with as little interruption as possible to the flow of electricity over the wires to your home or place of business, is another example of the effort constantly to improve and keep dependable your electric service.

Note: Since the appearance of the first of these advertisements, we have received requests for copies of the entire series. It is therefore planned, when the series is concluded, to reproduce them in booklet form.
